The nomination of Robertson was retered to the committee of commerce, of which Conking is chairman. If he pockets the appointment, democrats will yote solidly to discharge the committee and confirm.

New York, 23.—The Tribune's Washington says dudge Philips, upon hearing of his nomination, to-day, for the court of cinims, hastened to the White House and declined. His name will therefore to withdrawe.

The Times' Washington says of Robertson's nomination: It is believed that the nomination is it is believed that the nomination is the judge will not be confirmed. His nomination must go to Conkling's committee, in which it will be at the mercy of that gentleman. New York, 24.—The Tribune is overloyed at yesterday's nominations, and says the State of New York is big concigt for one republican party, but not for two. Garfield evidently believes this and means that his administration shall proseribo no faithful republican wing, but shall tend to bring all into closer and more harmonious relations. Conkling's frierds say that he does not apprehend any difficulty in securing the rejuction of Robertson as collector of New York.
